Transcript Information Sheet

Transcript	T5830 · 4 pages · generated Apr 3, 2026, 9:05 AM CDT · EvidentlySo 1.0.0
Source phones	Google Pixel 8 (Android 16); Google Pixel 10 (Android 17)
Dates	Mar 2 – Mar 30, 2026 (all dates)
Time zone	US Central (CST/CDT)
Contents	15 messages. RCS access was granted for every snapshot.*
Snapshots	2 snapshots, Mar 25, 2026 to Apr 3, 2026 (each listed in the Appendix). Other snapshots, which add nothing new, are listed in the attached log.
Flags	2 messages are flagged. The appendix explains each flag.

*To copy RCS style messages, it is required that a user grant the EvidentlySo app permission to briefly be used as the default messaging app. If permission is not granted, the phone may hide RCS messages from the app, so they can't be copied, and the app may not be able to tell they exist. This could leave messages out of this transcript.

About this transcript

This transcript was generated by the EvidentlySo app on the phone(s) listed above. Messages are copied directly from the phone's text message storage. This transcript shows the messages from this conversation's saved snapshots, within the dates shown above. Flags are issued when messages appear to be missing, altered or otherwise require explanation. All flags are explained in the appendix of this document. Messages are saved to the phone owner's own cloud storage account, not EvidentlySo's servers.

Limitations of the Service

Generally, it is possible that the EvidentlySo app cannot read or detect messages that were altered or deleted from a phone prior to use of the EvidentlySo app or if a message was sent, then altered or deleted before the app was used again. It is possible messages could be sent, altered or deleted from secondary devices, bypassing the devices listed above. The files are stored in the cloud storage account the app was connected to. As with any digital file, it is possible that someone could try to alter the contents.

Verify this transcript

The EvidentlySo Verification Tool detects if the content of a transcript was altered after being generated by the app. This is done using the SHA-256 fingerprint. Anyone can verify a file by uploading it to evidentlyso.com/verify. The page checks the file's fingerprint (SHA-256) against the one registered after the file was generated, and says whether this is the same, unchanged file. It does not read the messages. If the fingerprint doesn't match, the verification will fail. A copy saved again by another program (for example, re-saved or printed to PDF) won't match, even if the messages look the same.

Citations

Transcript IDs (e.g. T5830) and message numbers (MSG-001) are added by EvidentlySo to allow for citing directly to messages. Times are as stored on the phone, shown in the time zone above. Senders' numbers are as stored on the phone; names are as in the phone's contacts.

Yes, 5 works. I'll be at the school pickup line.

Jesse P. (203) 555-0148 · Mar 2, 2026 · 7:32:00 AM CST · MSG-003

I can bring Riley's soccer bag to the school if that helps.

Great, thank you. Soccer bag is in the hall closet.

Casey · Mar 9, 2026 · 8:02:00 PM CDT · MSG-006

Second half works better with my schedule, if that's okay.

Morgan K. (512) 555-0142 · Mar 9, 2026 · 8:05:00 PM CDT · MSG-007

That's fine. I'll drop off Thursday at 10 am.

Can we swap weekends in April? My sister's wedding is on the 18th and I'd like Riley to be there for the ceremony and the dinner afterward. I can do the pickup and drop-off both days so it doesn't cost you any driving.

Casey · Mar 30, 2026 · 9:45:00 AM CDT · MSG-014

Yes, I can take the 18th weekend and you take the 25th. C

Morgan K. (512) 555-0142 · Mar 30, 2026 · 9:47:00 AM CDT · MSG-015

Perfect. Thank you, I appreciate it.
